REPORTS OF CITY OFFICERS.

REPORT OF THE CITY MARSHAL.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE,

Portsmouth, March 17, 1853.

To the Hon. Mayor and City Council :

The undersigned herewith presents his Annual Report, as required by the City Ordinances.

The whole number of arrests for the past year is one hundred and thirty-four ; of which number seventeen were arrested by the watchmen while on duty. Most of the arrests by the watchmen were for drunkenness ; and the offenders, after becoming sober, were discharged, without subjecting them or the city to expense, on the following day. This is the case also with many of those arrested by the Police, a large number of whom were not residents of the city.

In addition to the above there have been arrested at different times three fugitives from justice from other states, who have been delivered into the custody of the proper officers.

The causes of all the above arrests, with but few exceptions, can be traced, either directly or indirectly, to the use of intoxicating liquors ; which are sold indiscriminately to persons of all ages and sexes. It is no uncommon thing for the Police to discover young boys from thirteen to sixteen years of age intoxicated in our streets. This it is hoped may be in a great measure decreased by the recent legislative enactment in regard to truant children, &c. ; as many of these appear to be children who are not properly cared for by their parents or guardians.

There is need of one or more Police Officers in addition to the present number. There are no more Police Officers now than twenty years ago, while the population of our city is much greater; a large number of the increase being of foreign population, which very greatly adds to the labors of the Police.

I am happy to state that, so far as I am aware, the citizens generally have sustained the Police in enforcing the laws of the state and ordinances of the city, which is very essential to the peace and good order of our community.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JONA. DEARBORN, City Marshal.

The Fire Department has been called out four times the past year. The first fire was in Sagamore woods ; the second destroyed a small building in Bow street ; loss $200, no insurance. The third and fourth were in W. S. Hadley's building, Market square, and were extinguished without the use of the engines. The damage by the former was $75, and by the latter $100. Total loss by fire during the year $375.

The expenses of the Department for the year have been as follows :—

Improvement of Engine Houses	$233 33

24 feet suction hose	56 00
Repairs of engines, hose, etc.	584 06
Pay of Engineers and Firemen	1580 00
	$2565 39

The cost of the reservoir in School street is not included in the above. The Board of Engineers would recommend to the City Council the purchase of one new engine and the construction of one reservoir the coming year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT
OF THE
COMMITTEE FOR HIGH SCHOOLS.

To the Mayor and Aldermen :

These schools, which have already acquired a reputation so deservedly high, have been continued with a vigor and success quite equalling those of other years. The tried, accomplished and skilful teachers have discharged their arduous and responsible duties to the satisfaction of the Committee. We congratulate the city in being able to retain for a succession of years the services of gentlemen so well qualified by their intellectual culture, their experience, and their high moral character, for the instruction of these schools.

Permit us in this annual report to invite special attention to the pressing want of a better building for these schools. Your committee believe the time has come for immediate action. The school for young ladies is in the basement of the Court House. For several weeks in the year and during term time, the court is in session directly above the school room. The noise, during these weeks, of the court is a serious annoyance to the school, and the exercises of the school disturb the court. But there is an evil more to be deprecated than this. The premises of the school room are freely entered by witnesses and others attending court, so that there is seldom an hour when men are not standing within the enclosure or leaning upon the fences of the school yard. When it is remembered that this is the school for young ladies, the impropriety is apparent. It is an evil which ought not to continue another year. This fact would be sufficient to demand a change, even if the present room were all that could be desired in other respects. But it is not. It might have seemed spacious and convenient twenty years ago—but the character of school-architecture has kept pace with the character of our schools during these years, and to one acquainted with the modern improvements this room seems low, narrow, ill-constructed and inconvenient. Being a basement room, in the fall and spring it is subject to an unhealthy dampness. During the winter it cannot be properly ventilated. It has no convenient ante-rooms for depositing the outside apparel of the young ladies. The location of the room, its connexion with the court house, and the whole character of the room, urgently demand that some other place be at once furnished for this school.

The room for the Boys' High School is so shut in by surrounding buildings as to render it dark and cheerless. Seldom and only for a brief period does the light of the sun visit it. Instead of the cheerful and inviting aspect which should ever belong to a school room, it is dismal and repulsive. This is not a trifling consideration. The character of our school rooms lives in the character of the scholars, in their intellectual and to some extent their moral traits, long after they cease to visit them—through life. If therefore a debt were created for a new building, it would be a debt which the next generation could well afford to pay, and which we believe they would gratefully pay. It is a mistaken economy to withhold the funds necessary to furnish good, convenient and pleasant school rooms.

The High School for boys is still taught by Mr. Kimball, assisted by Miss Curtis. For a few weeks Mr. Kimball was absent on account of ill health, and his place was well filled by Mr. Webster. Mr. Kimball is now too well known in the community to need any commendation from us. With his usual fidelity and success he has continued the labors of the past year. He has in Miss Curtis an able and accomplished assistant. We think the city fortunate in securing a gentleman combining to so high a degree the qualifications essential to this position. The subject of punctuality has received the constant attention of the committee, and we are happy to speak of a decided improvement in regard to it. The last month, the month of February, the absences were reduced to 4 1-4 per cent. We hope that both parents and scholars will strive to prevent any increase of this undesirable percentage.

The annual examination of this school took place on the 10th of March, and was throughout highly creditable to both teachers and scholars, and deeply interesting to the large number of parents and friends present. With a single exception all the recitations were excellent. The recitation in Geography, consisting of drawing maps on the blackboard and explaining them, evinced a very general and accurate knowledge of that important science. The recitations in Algebra, those in Latin and Greek, and those in Reading and Defining, were nearly all that could be desired. In this school a young man may receive a good business education, or, if such is his choice, become well fitted to enter any college in New England. We wish that the close of another year may find the parents and friends assembled in a larger and more cheerful room to listen to exercises of as high a character as those which the present examination has furnished.

The High School for girls is taught by Mr. Nichols, assisted by Miss Hanscom. At the beginning of the year there were two assistants; but in the opinion of the committee one of these could be dispensed with, and thus a saving be made of one hundred and fifty dollars yearly in the expense of this school. This school, as well as that for boys, has been visited throughout the year at the beginning of each month by two members of the committee, and its appearance has always been highly satisfactory. The annual examination was on March 4th. It was attended by a very large number of citizens, was continued through an entire day, and elicited the highest commendations from all present. The recitations in Algebra and Geometry would have done credit to pupils of higher seminaries, and the Reading was of uncommon excellence. The classes in French acquitted themselves well,—and indeed all the recitations were prompt and correct. In the opinion of your Committee, this school would not suffer from a comparison with the best public schools of any city in New England. With an enlarged and more convenient room, with the same teachers, and pupils of the same character, there will be little if anything to desire in regard to the High School for young ladies.

The only change made in the regulations of the High Schools for the year has been the revival of an obsolete rule in regard to tardiness—thus making tardiness a “demerit,” and causing it to bear upon the rank of the scholar. The effect has been good. The rule now requires each scholar to be in the school room when the clock strikes the hour for commencing, instead of allowing as formerly ten minutes, and thus training the children to habits of tardiness.

Your Committee would recommend the changing the age of admission from 11 to 12 years. We feel that this is especially important in regard to the school for girls. They would enter better prepared at 12, and with less danger of being injured by the pressure of studies in the High School.

The African School, which comes under the care of the High School Committee, is still taught by Miss Clark. The whole number belonging to the school is 9. The scholars who have attended constantly have made commendable progress, and will not suffer from a comparison with pupils of the same age in the other schools of the city. It is to be regretted that the children of one of the families for whom the school is sustained have been very irregular in their attendance during the past year.

WILLIAM H. ROLLINS.

REPORT
SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR DISTRICT No. 1.

To the Mayor and Board of Aldermen :

Gentlemen—The subscribers, a majority of the School Committee for District No. 1, make the following report of schools under their charge :

The number of teachers employed is the same as last year, and the schools are in a very flourishing condition.

The school at Gravelly Ridge has been under the care of Miss Coffin during the summer term, and of Mr. Shannon the remainder of the year ; it is in about the same condition as last year.

The Franklin School for boys, at Christian Shore, under the care of Mr. Dixon, is making good progress ; the teacher devotes all his energies to the instruction of his pupils, but where there is an irregular attendance of the scholars, great proficiency cannot be made. Mr. Dixon has done all that could reasonably be expected of him, when we consider that he has this irregular attendance to contend with in a greater degree than any other school in this district.

The Franklin School for misses, at Christian Shore, under the tuition of Miss White, is deserving of much praise. Great improvement has been made in this school during the past year ; the children are under better discipline, while the ability and devotedness of the teacher are more highly appreciated by those who are interested in the school. If these good feelings continue, and the parents of the children co-operate with the teacher, we shall expect this school in a short time to become one of the highest rank.

The Infant School, at Christian Shore, under the care of Miss Coffin, also that in High street, under the care of Mrs. Mullen, are well attended. The teachers are well calculated for their situations, and the schools are very important auxiliaries to those more advanced.

The Intermediate School, established last year, is composed of about an equal number of girls and boys; it is now under the charge of Miss Manson, who has been very successful in bringing forward the pupils under her care. When Miss Manson took charge of this school it was but thinly attended, and now every seat is occupied. The Committee feel satisfied that under the tuition of the present teacher pupils will be well prepared for the advance schools. With a continued devotedness to the improvement of her scholars, success must attend her efforts.

The Grammar School, under the care of Miss Mason, continues to merit the warm approbation which has heretofore been awarded it. Every branch of education attended to in this school is thoroughly taught; and when the order, neatness and regularity of the pupils are added to their love and respect for the teacher, it is not surprising that they should make great improvement in their studies. The experience of Miss Mason as a teacher, her success in instructing the pupils under her charge, and her admirable faculty of maintaining discipline, may well entitle this to the honor of being called the "Madel School."

The Bartlett School, for boys, under the tuition of Mr. Payson, continues to deserve the high commendation bestowed upon it by the committee of last year. Mr. Payson is untiring in his efforts to benefit his pupils, while their improvement affords satisfactory evidence that his exertions are amply rewarded. His school is full at all times, and good order always preserved. The number of graduates from his school to the High School the past year shows that Mr. Payson is eminently fitted for an instructor.

The school room occupied by Mr. Payson requires some repairs and to be enlarged, which the Committee recommend should be done without delay.

The Committee of last year recommended a new school house at Gravelly Ridge in preference to repairing the old house. We coincide in opinion with that Committee, and hope the necessary measures will be taken to have a new house erected the present season.

REPORT
SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR DISTRICT No. 2.

To the Hon. Mayor and Aldermen:

The School Committee of District No. 2 present the following as their annual report. There are in this district seven schools—six in the city proper and one at the Plains. These six schools within the city are of three distinct grades. There are two primary schools, embracing boys and girls both—two secondary schools, one for boys and one for girls, and two grammar schools, one for boys and one for girls. The arrangement is intended to take the child from his alphabet and fit him for admission to the high school. The system is all that can be desired.

Your Committee are prepared to commend the schools as a whole. We have no doubt the past year has shown a decided improvement on preceding years. While therefore there is room for still greater progress, we feel justified in congratulating the parents in this ward on the excellent facilities furnished for the education of their children. If we could, however, claim the attention of parents for a moment, we would utter a single word to them. There is one means of elevating the character of our schools which is more under the control of parents than of teachers or committees. It is punctuality to which we refer. The progress in several of our schools has been seriously impeded by the want of this the past year. During some portions of the year the number of absences has been lamentably great—to the injury of not only the absentees, but of every scholar. No fidelity and skill in the teacher can make a good school where the attendance of pupils is so inconstant. Let every parent remember that every instance of needless absence is inflicting a needless wound on the character of a whole school.

In speaking of the schools individually, we begin with the primary schools.

The first is kept by Mrs. Townsend. It embraces between sixty and seventy little boys and girls, from the age of four to seven or eight. This school has been very satisfactory. Mrs. Townsend is a faithful and affectionate teacher, and has a very happy faculty of winning and retaining the affections of the little ones under her charge.

The other primary school is under the charge of Miss M. Ham. This school has been very full during the year. The Committee feel that Miss Ham is deserving of the highest commendation for the fidelity and skill with which she discharges her laborious duties. She has a rare tact for exciting and sustaining the attention of her pupils. The examination furnished gratifying evidence of patient and successful teaching. The Committee were pleased with the singing in this school.

The secondary school for girls is now taught by Miss Mendum. Miss Hill, the former teacher, has been transferred to the grammar school for girls. Miss Mendum, who now has charge of this school, is a most worthy young lady, but seemed to the Committee to lack the health necessary for a vigorous discharge of her duties. We have no doubt the standing of the school has suffered from this cause.

Mr. John Durgin is teacher of the secondary school for boys. A few years since this school presented a most discouraging aspect. The discipline and scholarship were both low. We are happy therefore in being able to speak of a very decided improvement in the present character of the school. It is fast coming to take its place among the best disciplined and most prosperous schools of the city. Mr. Durgin is a laborious and faithful teacher.

The grammar school for boys continues to be taught by Mr. T. G. Senter. For a few months of the year he was obliged by ill health to resign his office. For these months the Committee were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Palmer, who kept the school to their entire satisfaction. The number of scholars having increased an assistant teacher was deemed necessary. Miss Ann Staples has been secured for this position—a young lady who was furnished with the highest recommendations, and who has thus far fully met our expectations. We are happy to express the conviction that this school was never in a more prosperous condition than at present. Its long-trying, able and accomplished principal—with restored health and aided by an assistant—has entered with new energy upon the discharge of his duties. The closing examination bore ample testimony to his fidelity and skill. The Committee were gratified by the presence at the examination of so large a number of the parents and friends of the scholars.

The grammar school for girls has been for several years under the instruction of Miss Young—a teacher who gave good satisfaction, and with whom the committee were reluctant to part. On the resignation of Miss Young the school was offered to Miss M. L. Hill, the teacher of the secondary school for girls, who accepted it on condition that a few months vacation be allowed her before commencing. During this interval Miss Isabella Ham took charge of the school, and proved herself to be an efficient and successful teacher. The school therefore has been under its present teacher only since October, and has suffered the disadvantage of having twice changed its teachers, as well as of being twice subjected to a very considerable change in its text books. From these facts the Committee hardly expected to find the school fully sustaining its previous character. But they were happily disappointed, and at the close of the examination, protracted through three hours, they were unanimous in the opinion that the school had never presented a better appearance.

The recitations were prompt and correct, and evinced a thorough understanding of the portions of the text books gone over. We do not remember to have heard better recitations in grammar and geography. There were fine specimens of natural reading in this school. We are thoroughly convinced that it was judicious to transfer Miss Hill to this school, and hope that she may have health to continue in charge of it for years to come.

The school at the Plains was taught during the summer months by Miss Hayes, an excellent teacher. Under her instruction the school appeared well and made commendable progress. We were disappointed in not getting for the winter term the gentleman, Mr. Putnam, upon whom our choice was fixed. We had engaged him, but as he had subsequently a more advantageous offer, we were unwilling to hold him to the contract. Not being successful in securing the right teacher, this school has not probably its usual standing. There is material here for one of the best schools in the city, and we trust another year, under better auspices, the school will rank among the first.

In closing the report your Committee would allude to what is now a pressing want, and will soon be an imperative one—the want of more and better school-room. The brick building in the north part of the city, occupied by Mr. Durgin and Miss Ham, is much crowded and poorly ventilated. The atmosphere in these rooms is for the greater portion of the time necessarily impure and unhealthy. Whether the present building should be enlarged or a new one built the Committee are not called upon to decide; but we are quite sure that the time has come when better accommodations should be furnished for these schools.

REPORT
OF THE
SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR DISTRICT No. 3.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Portsmouth :

The undersigned Committee for School District No. 3 in said city respectfully present their annual report. The schools in the district remain the same as during the previous year.

The Infant School is still under the joint charge of Miss A. M. Hall and Miss S. E. Moses. This school continues as deserving of praise as in former years, and its progress shows that its teachers are able and devoted to the task, especially when we consider the number of pupils connected with the school. During the past year, the number has increased very much, and for a short time in the last summer the average attendance was about one hundred and fifty. In consequence of this great increase, the Committee decided to transfer about forty pupils from this to the Primary School before they were qualified, and thus in some degree relieved this school, though it remains quite large enough to occupy fully the attention of the teachers.

The Primary School still remains under the joint charge of Mrs. D. N. Shackford and Miss Adeline Tucker, and the Committee are of opinion that it continues to merit the approbation bestowed on it in previous reports.

Both these schools labor under the disadvantage of having two principals, instead of a responsible head with an assistant. However able and attentive the teachers may be, and however friendly to one another, this fact will always prevent the complete success of their labors. The committee have made no change on this account, nor are they prepared to recommend any, because, in their opinion, the district ought to retain the services of the present faithful teachers.

The Grammar School is now taught by Mr. Alfred M. Hoyt, assisted by the Misses Marshall and Miss S. A. Whittem. The literary character of this school stands deservedly high, and does great credit to the teachers. The discipline of the school, with reference to the boys especially, was not equal to what the Committee thought it should be, but in their opinion there has been a great improvement during the past year, and they hope the improvement will continue until the character of the school for order shall stand as high as its character for improvement in knowledge deservedly does now. The Committee, in speaking of the discipline of the school, must express their regret that the teacher has so nearly exclusively relied upon corporeal punishment to preserve order. They deemed it their first duty to direct their efforts towards producing a reform in this particular by decreasing its frequency in such a manner as to increase its efficacy, and they are happy to say that the change has been to some degree effected. The Committee have been thus particular on the subject of discipline, because the large number of scholars in the building makes the discipline of the older scholars of great importance.

During the year it became necessary, as has been above-mentioned, to transfer about forty pupils from the Infant to the Primary School, out of the regular course, and this rendered necessary a similar transfer from the Primary to the Grammar School. This transfer placed in the Grammar School many pupils whose qualifications were below the established grade of the school, and by increasing the number of classes made the labor too great to be performed by three teachers. The Committee therefore engaged Miss S. A. Whittem as a third assistant in the school, and they are pleased to be able to say that she has proved herself a competent and faithful teacher, and that the performances of her classes do her great credit.

The Committee are gratified to notice that the interest which the parents and friends of the pupils take in the school is on the increase, as is shown by the increasing number who attend the examinations.

There is quite a large number of boys in this district who, by an irregular attendance at school, or by not attending it at all, have reached an age and size at which they think themselves too old or too large to attend the lower schools, without having the qualifications necessary to fit them for the Grammar School, and it is very difficult and often impossible to induce them to attend any school. The Committee hope that during the next year some means may be used by which such boys may be, at least partially, educated.

The Lafayette Road School was taught during the summer by Miss Susan F. Drake, and those members of the Committee who were able to visit the school were satisfied that she is a competent and faithful teacher. The school did not make so much progress as it should under her care, on account of the great number of absences among the pupils. At least two of the pupils who were old enough to know the importance of regular attendance were absent more than half the summer term, and these cases are not the only ones of extremely irregular attendance.

During the winter term this school was taught by Mr. J. A. M. Chapman, and the Committee were much pleased with his success. There was a great improvement in the attendance over that of the summer term, though the number of absences still continued large enough to injure seriously the appearance of the school. In this school the pupils have generally too strong a desire to make progress to permit them to do any thing thoroughly. By the request of the Committee, Mr. Chapman commenced at the beginning, especially in Arithmetic, and the Committee were glad to find at the closing examination that as far as the scholars had progressed they thoroughly understood what they had gone over.

During the year Bullion's Grammar has been substituted by the Superintending Committee for Smith's, which was previously in use.

The financial and statistical reports are herewith submitted.

ERRATA.—In the hurry of the publication of this pamphlet many errors of the compositor have perhaps escaped the detection of the proof reader, which will be observed by the attentive examiner. By some unaccountable accident, page 52 appears to have been altogether unobserved by the proof reader. The errors are such as to confuse no one, but sadly mar the page.—[PRINTER.
